

Front-end Developers for leading Insurtech Startup

The Position

We are looking for a Front-end Developer to further develop our Policy Digitalisation Engine. You will be part of a team that is responsible for the development of this platform. The team is located in Assago, Milan.

Who are we looking for?

We are looking for a colleague, male or female, that is passionate about programming.

- University degree in Computer Science or Software Engineering
- Practical understanding of JQuery, Bootstrap and CSS3 and HTML5
- Knowledge of .NET web development, C# appreciated
- Azure Services, Azure SQL Database knowledge appreciated
- Good working knowledge of English, other languages are considered a plus

What we offer

An interesting position in a fast growing and international start-up. Competitive salary. This is not only the company where you can develop your programming skills but you will be part of a team that is at the forefront of the (Fintech/Insurtech) start-up scene and is growing quickly.

About us

Coverholder (www.coverholder.it) is an Insurtech start-up, we are a completely digital Managing General Agent in the insurance industry. We build cloud-based software that is revolutionizing insurance distribution by drastically simplifying the insurance brokerage process.

Insurtech MGA Ltd has developed an integrated platform written in .NET environment (MVC 4.5) that allows it to digitalize complex policies.

Our cloud-based tool allows intermediaries to capture all information required for policy compliance directly from the customer. Policy pricing is calculated in real-time and the broker can adjust the parameters directly with the client to correctly set the desired pricing level, all of this while remaining within the risk parameters set out by the insurance company. Once the conditions of the policy are agreed upon with the customer, our software allows the broker to issue the insurance right there in front of the customer.

The company was founded in 2016 by experts in insurance underwriting and has been growing quickly since the launch of our first product mid-2017. Coverholder has offices in Milan (Assago) and London.

How to contact us

Please send your application to career@coverholder.it