

Department of Medicine and Health Sciences “V. Tiberio”

Profile:

Comparative procedure for the cover of n. 1 position of university professor according to the Italian Law. n. 240/10, art. 18, paragraph 1, for the Macro Sector 06/D Medical Clinical Specialties, for sector competition 06/D3 - Haematology, Oncology and Rheumatology, scientific sector MED/16 - Rheumatology.

Specific functions that candidate should fulfill and required teaching and research activity:

Requested teaching duties: The candidate will be able to carry out the teaching activities typical of the scientific sector (SSD) Rheumatology (MED/16) and of similar scientific sectors issued at University of Molise, with emphasis on single cycle Degree Course in Medicine and Surgery.

Requested research duties: The candidate will be able to perform research activities in sector MED/16 - Rheumatology with particular reference to methodology and clinical research on outcome of seronegative arthritis such as Psoriatic Arthritis and Axial Spondyloarthritis.

National and international scientific duties: The open position is devoted to a candidate having remarkable scientific expertise and time continuing teaching activity in Rheumatology, also with a multidisciplinary approach. The candidate should have international scientific and academic skills as evidenced by participation to national and international research projects. Moreover, the candidate should demonstrate ability to coordinate national and/or international research projects. Finally, the candidate should be able to show leadership or membership to national and international research groups.

Maximum number of admitted papers: Not more than 16 papers will be evaluated.

Language skill: English.

Operative place: Department of Medicine and Health Sciences “Vincenzo Tiberio” (University of Molise).